

Americans are subjected to sex, violence and profanity on TV even in commercial which we believe should be censored. Hard-working Americans deserve the right to other choices without having to pay for religious programming. Strike down the "a la carte cable regulation" forbidding this programming. What's is happening to this country that freedom of religion only applies to terrorists?